ROTA DO PASTOR

quimeratravelexperiences.com

In this trip you will contemplate the unique landscapes of the south of Portugal. From the top of Foia, with good visibility, you can see the sea. Walking along the shepherd trails will let you observe the terraces made by man to hold land in order to create arable spaces in previously inhospitable areas. Nature lovers will love to cross small streams surrounded by various species of trees and vegetation such as water chestnuts, hawthorn, cork oaks, willows, rock roses, sargasso, rosemary, gorse, among others. This also is a great route for birdwatching. This guided tour includes seasonal fruit, water, insurance and pick-up / drop-off from a place of your choice.
